SANITARY WASHABLE

HALL'S DISTEMPER

THE KING OF WATER PAINTS.

The scientific ideal of a wall covering is one that is not only beautiful, but easy to keep clean, germ proof, absolutely fast in colour, and when applied a thorough disinfectant. No wall covering conforms so closely to these requirements as Hall's Sanitary Washable Distemper which has the important advantages of being most economical and durable.

Hall's Distemper is applied with a whitewash brush, saving much in the cost of labour.

It sets hard, kills microbes and vermin, and disinfects.

It is made in a wide range of 70 colours, including rich darks as well as light tints.

The colours never fade, enabling furniture and pictures to be moved about a room without showing discoloured walls.

Hall's Distemper decoration may be washed by lightly sponging down with clean tepid water. It remains clean, sweet and fresh for years.

Shade card and full particulars post free on application to:—

A PLAQUE TAX AT VLADIVOSTOCK.

GRADUATED LEVY ACCORDING TO OCCUPATION.

We read in the Vladivostok Daily News that in order to raise funds for combating the plague epidemic in that port thoroughly and efficiently the authorities imposed a one-time tax on all independent people over 15 years of age, payable by May 15th. This tax is graduated according to occupations and professions. Domestic labourers, cabbies, etc., pay one rouble each; employers, artisans, and clerks of municipal institutions 2 per cent. of the month's salary; persons of liberal professions, such as lawyers, doctors, engineers and so on 10 roubles each. Furthermore, industrial, commercial and proprietorship taxes ranging up to 100 roubles according to trading houses are imposed, and any one not paying within the stipulated time pays fivefold thereafter. By this means it is hoped to raise something like 500 to 600 thousand roubles (gold basis) from the entire province which is considered ample, provided the epidemic does not progress too fast before the necessary arrangements can be made to tackle it properly. With the restricted working, as far as something like 50,000 roubles have already been expended and one cannot even say that the situation has been mastered.

The above mentioned grading of the tax is meeting with dissatisfaction by most of the "liberal profession" as this section of the community is practically the poorest at present, with the exception of some doctors and well-established professional men, whilst the workmen and many artisans are comparatively better off.

THE RUSSIAN VOLUNTEER FLEET.

TROUBLE OVER THE SALE OF A STEAMER.

The Russian Volunteer Fleet's steamer Almaz, which has been lying at Vladivostok, was recently at public auction sold to a Japanese firm for 185,750 yen. The French Consulate at Vladivostok has published a warning that any purchase or transaction concerning the ship will not be considered legal and that the French Government must be consulted in view of the Volunteer Fleet's obligation to them.

The Russian Volunteer Fleet has made the following declaration in reply: (1) The Volunteer Fleet is the public property of the entire Russian people, operated under control of the Russian Government and all attempts of Russian emigrants abroad to present the Volunteer Fleet as a private Russian concern is malicious forgery. (2) Only such activities of the administration as have been sanctioned by the existing Russian Government are considered lawful. (3) None of the existing Russian Governments in the territory of the former Russian Empire has issued, or authorized any representative of the Volunteer Fleet to issue, any act whatever transferring title or property of this fleet to the French Government. (4) The fleet to the French Government, sold at public auction to the Japanese firm of K. Kondo with full cognizance of the Russian Government, has been assigned to this port since 1916, was never mortgaged and is absolutely free from any claims or debts. All lawful title-deeds to indisputable possession of this steamer are at the disposal of the Board of Directors of the Volunteer Fleet in Vladivostok.

JAPAN AND THE LIMITATION OF ARMAMENTS.

One of the recent telegrams sent from London to Japan regarding the tour of the Crown Prince says:—

There was a brilliant assemblage at the Japan Society's dinner to-night (May 28th) at the Hotel Cecil in honour of the Crown Prince of Japan, including, besides the Duke of York, the Allied Ambassadors, the First Lord of the Admiralty (Lord Lee), and a number of Japanese and European ladies.

Lord Lee, in a speech, dwelt on the marvellous changes in Japan during the past 50 years. The ancient traditions which formed a sympathetic link between Great Britain and Japan were loyalty to the throne and love of the sea.

He referred to what he described as the brave and momentous utterance of the Japanese Minister of Marine last month in offering suitably to limit Japan's armaments if the other Powers reached a reliable, unanimous agreement to the same effect, and lauded the United States Senate's resolution authorizing the convoking of a disarmament conference.

The First Lord expressed the opinion that the Japanese Minister of Marine's action showed that Japan, though great in war, was greater still in appreciation of the world's need for peace. (Cheers.)

He was convinced that Japan would never make the mistake which had inexorably brought all militaristic Powers to ruin, as she would do if she forgot that peace was the world's greatest interest. Japan was rightly conscious of her strength, but she was ready to set the example of moderation which was ultimately the greatest attribute of strength.—Reuter.

PARIS SENSATION.

A Paris telegram states that Juanita Monassio, wife of a Persian diamond merchant, created a sensation in a famous jewellers' shop by entering with a revolver in her hand and, seeing her husband seated in a corner, fired two shots at him, wounding him fatally. In the confusion which followed tables were overturned and precious stones were scattered about the floor. She was taken to a police station where she declared that she was married in Persia at the age of sixteen and went to Jerusalem where her husband abandoned her and five children. She saved up enough money to come to Paris to shoot him.

THE YANGTZE REGION.

A POLITICAL AGREEMENT BY MILITARY GOVERNORS.

[ASIANET NEWS AGENCY.]

NANKING, May 20th.

There was an important political development in this southern capital of China this morning when the representatives of General Chen Kuang-yuan of Kiangsi and General Chang Wen-shen of Anhui met the Chief Secretary of General Chi Maich-yuan of Kiangsu and signed an agreement relating to the post of High Inspecting Commissioner for Kiangsu, Anhui and Kiangsi as follows:—

With a view to securing the peace and order of Kiangsu, Anhui and Kiangsi and the protection of the people of these provinces, the Tsuchuns are agreed to work together in harmony for the suppression of bandits along their frontiers by joint armed forces. Regarding the post of the High Inspecting Commissioner, as late Tsuchun to whom did not assume his additional office and there is, in accordance with the wishes of the peoples of the three provinces, no necessity for it, the Tsuchuns of Kiangsu, Anhui and Kiangsi will combine their forces to oppose the appointment of any new official for some time in the future.

This is regarded as a political agreement or understanding of the three military governors of Lower and Central Yangtze, and it implies that General Chi Maich-yuan, Chen Kuang-yuan and Chang Wen-shen do not like to work under General Wong Chao-yuan who is believed to be moving heaven and earth in Peking to get himself transferred to Nanking from Wuhan, chiefly because Hunan does not recognize his authority over it and also because the people of Hupeh have published what they call the "ten great political and military crimes" of Wong Chao-yuan's seven years' administration in Wuhan. Further, owing to the rumour that the Central Government, in order to induce General Lu Yun-shiang of Chekiang to change his attitude towards the parliamentary elections, intends to create another post of High Inspecting Commissioner for Kiangsu, Anhui and Chekiang and then place Kiangsi under the authority of Wong Chao-yuan in Wuhan, thus raising the position of Wong Chao-yuan and Lu Yun-shiang to the same level as that of Tsao Kun and Chang Tso-lin. There is one clause in the agreement which states that as Su Wan-Kan (Kiangsi Governor) the defunct Manchurian Dynasty, the three Tsuchuns would oppose any separation of the three provinces under whatever pretext by their efforts in the future.

THE SUPER-TUCHUNS.

INTERESTING RUMOURS.

Reports were recently in circulation in the Chinese papers that relations between Marshal Tsao Kun and Marshal Chang Tso-lin had cooled because of a quarrel over the division of political spoils following partial reorganization of the Chin Cabinet. The Asiatic News Agency however, learns from a reliable source that the report is "grossly exaggerated." The facts appear to be that the Government advanced the sum of three million dollars to the War Lord of Manchuria for the purposes of the Mongolian expedition, without making any provision for the payment of the troops under the command of the War Lord of Chih'i, Shantung and Honan. Further, owing to the most complicated nature of the distribution of political and military powers in Manchuria, Mongolia, North China Proper and the Central Yangtze Valley between the three High Inspecting Commissioners' Tsao, Chang and Wong, with the Prime Minister practically as their middleman or go-between, it requires time to settle definitely the demands of the three War Lords for their immediate relatives and friends, especially between Tsao Kun and Chang Tso-lin, who are called by the Chinese liberal newspapers of Peking and Tientsin the "Super-Government of China." Both Tsao and Chang became dissatisfied with the situation and threatened to return to their own headquarters without further conference with the Government. Tsao Kun is reported to be more angry than Chang Tso-lin because he has been left in the cold as far as the distribution of funds is concerned, so that he ordered the Ministry of Communications to provide special trains for his use immediately. When Chang Tso-lin heard of this incident, he also ordered similar trains for Mukden; but fortunately the threatened break was saved by General Chin.

Lord Haig had a great reception at Kronstadt, Orange Free State, where he led a commando of burghers through the town.

THE VERY BEST EYE INSURANCE

You can get for the hot season—including risks of dust and glare—a pair of Sir William Crookes Glasses—the ideal guard from glare. There are two varieties of this glass: (a) A glass very slightly tinted, of a pale bluish-grey colour which looks almost colourless. (b) A neutral tint which cuts down the glare as well as absorbing the harmful rays. Crookes lenses of any prescription in either regular or Toric form are manufactured by the Hongkong Optical Co., Successors to Clark & Co., Manufacturing and Refining Opticians—the most competent optical manufacturing establishment in South China—located in 58, Queen's Road Central.—Adv.

TRANSPORTING OPIUM. STEAMSHIP COMPANY FINED.

ALLEGED DUMMY TANK AS HIDING PLACE.

The Ko Chau Steamship Company was summoned, at the instance of the Imports and Exports Office, at the Magistrate's Court, before Mr. G. N. Orme, yesterday, for having allowed one of their vessels, the s.s. Kochu, to be used for the transportation of illicit opium.

Mr. M. K. Lo (who defended) said that since the seizure of the opium by the police, some of the crew had disappeared. Therefore, if the onus was on him to prove that the crew had nothing to do with the smuggling, as the Magistrate had already ruled in a previous case, there was nothing left for him but to plead guilty. He would therefore only make a submission on the question of penalty. The run of this ship was the same as in the previous case before the Court, and the facilities for search of the vessel, both by the guards and the Chinese customs authorities, had already been explained. These measures also obtained on the Kochu. The Captain and European officers of the vessel who were persons of ability, had taken every precaution to prevent smuggling on the vessel.

Mr. N. L. Smith, Superintendent of Imports and Exports, said that to his mind, this was a more serious case than the previous one as the opium was found in a large tank with dummy rivets. The tank, which was situated above one of the boilers, was the most extraordinary thing he had ever seen on a ship, and he could not see for what purpose it was put there. He was suspicious that this tank had been used many times for the purpose of smuggling, and if the ship was properly searched, it was extraordinary that such a big thing should have gone unnoticed.

Mr. Lo said that he resented Mr. Smith's remarks as they reflected on the officers of the ship and the owners. It was just as good as saying that the tank was put there for the express purpose of smuggling opium. He would not for a moment deny that the presence of the tank was known to the officers of the ship, but it had never occurred to them that it could or would be used for smuggling opium. If the prosecution took the attitude they did, the argument could be used by him with equal force. If it was so extraordinary that the ship's officers did not detect the smuggling of opium in the tank, it was equally extraordinary that the police had not detected it earlier, long ago. This was by no means the first time the vessel had been searched.

The Magistrate: What do you suggest the tank is for, Mr. Lo?

Mr. Lo: It was originally used as a coal store, but since a new dock has been put on the ship, the tank has not been in use.

The Magistrate: I would like to know how the opium got there?

Mr. Lo: It must have been put there by the subordinate members of the crew while the vessel was at sea.

Would they not make a noise getting into it?—Yes. But I submit that they would not be detected while the ship is at sea, as the engine-room would be the noisiest part of the vessel.

Mr. Lo went on to say that the tank was very inaccessible owing to its proximity to the boiler, and in getting into it, one ran the risk of being scorched. He (Mr. Lo) was nearly scorched when he went into it. He congratulated Chief Preventive Officer Watt on his wit in going into it to search for opium.

Mr. Lo submitted that it would be superhuman to expect the ship's officers to anticipate that such an inaccessible place would be utilised by the smugglers.

Mr. J. Edwards, Chief Engineer of the Kochu, was then called. He said that he had been two years on the vessel. When he first got on board, he noticed the tank, but did not know then that it was a tank. He thought that it was a support for the new smoke deck, which was put in when the ship was turned into a passenger vessel, long before he joined her. When he did subsequently discover that it was a tank, it did not occur to him that it could be used for concealing opium. He thought that it might be useful for storing fresh water when on the ocean. He knew of no connection of the tank with the engine-room excepting by removing one of its sides.

The Magistrate pointed out that the tank was said to have been fastened with dummy rivets.

Mr. Lo said that the ship's officers could not be held responsible for that. A more simple explanation was that the smugglers must have spent several hours removing the side of the tank, and had put in dummy rivets so as to make it easier for them to get at the opium at the end of the trip.

The Magistrate said that he was of opinion that the ship's officers had not taken every precaution to prevent smuggling, and that it was not superhuman to expect them to anticipate that the tank, which was admittedly not in use, would or could be utilised for smuggling opium. He would fine the defendant firm $2,000, and in doing so, he would

EUROPEAN LADY'S COMPLAINT.

RUDENESS OF A RICKSHA COOLIE.

Thirty-six summonses against ricksha and chair coolies for various offences, were dealt with by Mr. R. E. Lindsell, at the Magistrate's Court, yesterday.

Mrs. Alexander Mackenzie, of 154, Barker Road, The Peak, was the principal witness in support of a prosecution of a ricksha coolie for behaving rudely and in an insulting manner towards a lady.

Mrs. Mackenzie said that at 3.30 p.m. on May 28th, she hired the defendant's ricksha to go to Happy Valley. At the Cemetery, she told the coolie to "man man," and walked into the Cemetery. The defendant followed her, took her by the arm and spoke in Chinese but she did not know what he said. He then clutched her bag, which she was carrying, with some flowers. She shook him off and said "man man" as before. She walked on but the defendant followed and again caught hold of her arm. In view of his persistence she retraced her steps and went to the Golf House to get the No. 1 boy there to speak to the defendant. The latter waited outside with his ricksha. The No. 1 boy spoke to him and she took his number and her husband informed the police.

The defendant denied that he took hold of the lady's arm or of her bag. He said he was in a hurry to hand over his ricksha. He did not understand the lady until the Golf House boy explained to him.

The Magistrate: How long have you been a ricksha coolie?

Defendant: I am a new comer. The Magistrate: And you don't understand "man man"?

Defendant first said "Yes" and then "No." He added that in the Wanchai district rickshas are handed over to fresh runners at 4 p.m.

Inspector Garrod: There is no doubt this man handed over his ricksha soon after this affair, but that is no excuse for his behaviour.

The Magistrate: Every coolie in the Colony knows what "man man" means. You will be fined $20 or fourteen days.

A RICKSHA FARMER.

Leung Kam Lou, licensee of public rickshas in Kowloon, was fined $3 each on two summonses for not keeping rickshas in a cleanly condition. Inspector Garrod said the rickshas were too dirty to be ridden in. The Magistrate told the defendant that as a "ricksha farmer" he was responsible for the condition of the vehicles.

GIRLS HEAVILY DRUGGED. SINGAPORE CRIMINAL AT LARGE.

A life banished from Singapore was charged before Mr. G. N. Orme, at the Magistrate's Court, yesterday, with the theft, with two others not in custody, of $570 worth of jewellery, the property of two Chinese girls living in Yau-mai.

Inspector Brown said that the girls were alleged to have been drugged at a restaurant by three men who removed their jewellery. The girls remained unconscious for nearly 24 hours. When they discovered that they had been robbed, they reported to the police and gave the defendant's name.

Sergeant Vincent (in charge of records) said that the defendant had a very bad record in Singapore where he had served seven years' rigorous imprisonment before being banished.

The Magistrate enquired why the defendant was not charged with returning from banishment, as banishment from one British Colony applied to all others.

Sergeant Vincent said that the practice followed here was that a man banished from Singapore was sent away the first time, but if found here again, was charged.

The Magistrate passed sentence of six months' imprisonment with hard labour.

HONGKONG EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS FOR MAY.

put the previous case on a parallel with this one in which the fine of $3,000 was reduced to $2,000. The opinion found on the ship would be confiscated.

THE MISSION OF HEALING. FURTHER PARTICULARS OF THE RESULTS.

St. John's Cathedral Church Notes do not yet satisfy public interest as to the results of the Spiritual Healing Mission, from a medical point of view, but in the issue for June a balance sheet of the Mission is published. This shows that the receipts amounted to $2,185, of which $1,470 was made up of unsolicited donations. The remainder consisted of offerings and proceeds from the sale of books. Expenses amounted to $245.30 and a "thank-offering" paid to Mr. Hickson amounted to $1,950.

The following paragraphs of general interest are also published in Church Notes:

Cathedral Roof.—Almost the whole of the roof has been removed, and it is wonderful how well the matchless has kept out the incessant rain. One of the main beams which runs diagonally across the nave, at the point where the South transept joins it, has been found to be badly eaten by white ants at one end, and has had to be shored up. The floor boards are also being taken up in sections and replaced by concrete.

Bishop's Staff and Ring.—A circular was sent out last month inviting subscriptions towards the provision of a Pastoral Staff and Signet Ring for the use of the Bishops of Victoria. The approved design by Birks of Vancouver would cost $1,250 in silver gilt, including leather case. It is also proposed to have a replica in blackwood made locally, for use in distant parts of the Diocese, at a cost not exceeding $100.

The estimated cost of a Signet Ring, with amethyst engraved with the Arms of the Diocese for sealing, to be obtained in Paris, is $200. Allowing any $100 for the cost of insurance premiums for five years, the total estimated cost is $1,550. The appeal has been successful, and the amount required has been guaranteed by different people, but it is thought there are others who would like the opportunity of sharing in this gift to the Diocese.

Owing to famine conditions and the increasing need of money for missionary work, only the less expensive staff, and the ring will be obtained for the present. Promises of subscriptions may be sent to the Rev. J. T. Holman, St. John's Cathedral.

Cathedral Hall.—In accordance with a suggestion made by H.E. the Governor to the Senior Chaplain at the last annual meeting of seafarers and subscribers, a series of portraits of the Bishops of the Diocese have been hung in the Cathedral Hall, bearing the following inscriptions:—

- 1.—George Smith 1849-1864
- 2.—Charles Richard Alford 1867-1872
- 3.—John Shaw Burdon 1874-1897
- 4.—Joseph Charles Hoare 1898-1906
- 5.—Gerard Heath Lander 1907-1920

Victoria Diocesan Association.—The first annual reunion will be held in London, on June 13th, Sir John Jordan, G.C.I.E., has provisionally consented to act as Chairman, and the speakers it is hoped will include:—Bt. Rev. Bishop Lander; Rev. G. F. Wilson, General Superintendent of the Missions to Seamen; Rev. H. Copley Moyle, Senior Colonial Chaplain; Rev. A. D. Stewart, Principal, St. Paul's College, Hongkong.

ALLEY BOWLS.

SHANGHAI BEATS HONGKONG.

An unofficial but none the less interesting match at alley bowls was played at the Shanghai Club between sides representing Shanghai and Hongkong. The match was across four alleys, and resulted in a good win for Shanghai, rendered the more interesting, says the N.C. Daily News, from the fact that Mr. V. R. E. Harth-Olsen took down the cross alley record for the year to date. The score was:—

THE MECHANICS' DEMANDS ACCEPTED.

Late last night it was reported that the Managing-Directors of the Canton-Samshui Railway Company, Kwangtung Electric Supply Company and the Hip Sing Engineering Company have agreed accede to the demands of the mechanics for an increase in pay.

AFFAIRS AT VLADIVOSTOK RUSSIAN AND JAPANESE AUTHORITY IN CONFLICT.

From a bulletin just received from the Dalat (Russian) News Agency we extract the following: Vladivostok, May 31st.

At about half past eleven, on the morning of May 31st, in Vladivostok, the Japanese troops occupied the local Russian Military headquarters, and after requesting all Russian officers and soldiers to leave, they made a thorough search for arms, in every place about headquarters. They requisitioned ten rifles, and a heavy box, the contents of which are unknown. After a two hours occupation, the Japanese released all the officers and soldiers, and left the headquarters. When asked by the Russian authorities to give a reason for their action, the Japanese Chief of Gendarmerie replied that the search was made in order to prevent bloodshed "that could happen since Japanese Military Command had exact information that anti-government groups were preparing coup." The Japanese troops also occupied other government offices, and made searches, and they requisitioned arms from the State Defence Police. Finally all the offices were evacuated by the Japanese, and requisitioned arms returned.

VLADIVOSTOK, May 31st.

By orders of the State Defence Police, a search was made for arms yesterday in house No. 59, Komarovskaya Street, which resulted in the finding of a quantity of arms and caused the arrest of twenty-five Russian reactionary officers. The search was made after information had been received about the intense activity of the reactionary groups in starting disturbances at Vladivostok. It was found that the house was rented by a Japanese named Teizo Hori. This man tried to resist the officers when the search was started, and issued a written statement that all of the Russians who were staying at his flat possessed no arms. Further information that the arms were really concealed in this house, they sent a detachment of police to conduct the search. The Japanese, Hori, refused the police admittance, and they were compelled to force their way into the house and start the search under his protest. Whilst searching for arms in the first two rooms the police found that Hori had escaped and had locked up another part of the flat very hastily. During the search a Japanese interpreter arrived from Military Headquarters, and demanded that the search be stopped at once. Upon finding that his order was not obeyed, he struck a police officer in the face. He was arrested at once and taken to police headquarters. Later the Chief of the Japanese Gendarmerie arrived and was present during the search of the second half of the flat. One room resisted all efforts to break in, and despite the suspicion that it might contain something interesting, the police could not search there. The Chief of the Japanese Gendarmerie guaranteed that Hori will be brought to trial for concealing his tenants accused of high treason. The same assurance was given in the case of the interpreter, who struck the police officer while on duty. The Russian reactionary officers arrested during the search were led to the local jail under strong escort. The Public Prosecutor and other judicial officials arrived at the spot and proceeded to make further inquiries. The Japanese Gendarmerie, however, did not allow them to perform their duties. The Russian authorities have lodged a protest with the Japanese Command regarding this new violation.

POLITICIANS AND LABOUR TROUBLES.

It would be a very good thing if prominent politicians were to keep out of the arena when industrial disputes are before the country. Of late years there has been a tendency for Ministers to rush in and attempt to make a sensational settlement (usually in the form of concessions to Labour) after the manner of the stage magician, who suddenly appears and, having waved a wand, produces a couple of rabbits out of a hat. Mr. Lloyd George is an adept at this kind of theatrical performance. It is said that when the present coal-mining dispute came up the question was gravely discussed in the London Clubs, in a spirit of amused cynicism, what would be the psychological moment he would select for appearing in the familiar role of the all-compelling wizard. He has done this so often that it is regarded almost as inevitable. On this occasion the expected intervention took place, but the problem was too big for "wizardry," and the strike went on.

Now, what people are saying is that the Prime Minister and other exalted persons ought to mind their own business in Labour disputes. If the Government is to remain impartial in these circumstances—and that is the proper attitude for Government—personal intervention is unwise. The position is different now from what it was in war time. While we were engaged in the life-and-death struggle with Germany the Government could not afford to take risks; a settlement had to be made where national interests were at stake with the least possible delay. And in every instance concessions were given at the expense of the general taxpayer, while the bad habit of Ministerial meddling in industrial troubles was contracted.

Apart from the evil effects of meddling in the way we are discussing, there is no real justification for interference. Lord Asquith, who gained a deservedly high reputation as mediator in industrial disputes when he was Chief Industrial Commissioner in the years before the war, has been pointing out that several Acts of Parliament have been passed since the Armistice to deal with Labour troubles; but the remarkable thing is that although the present Government established Industrial Courts they have not had the courage to refer disputes to them, but have continued personally to deal with questions as they have arisen.

Under the Industrial Courts Act set up by Parliament a Labour dispute can be referred by the Minister of Labour for settlement to the Court, or to arbitrators appointed by him, or to a Board of Arbitrators representing employers and employed, with an independent chairman. All that is necessary in order to put the machinery into motion is the consent of the disputants to have the issue tried. The same Act also provides for a trade dispute, whether reported to the Minister of Labour or not, to be brought before a Court of Inquiry, which has power to call evidence necessary to arrive at a decision.

There is, therefore, in existence all the necessary machinery for dealing with Labour troubles. "The main difficulty in the use of this Act," says Lord Asquith, "as a most valuable assistance towards industrial peace is that Ministers will persist in interference in industrial disputes instead of leaving them to the action of the Minister of Labour and the powers conferred upon him by the Act of Parliament." There we have in a nutshell the explanation of the whole position. Individual Ministers are each out for "kudos" on their own account; they want to be able to appear in the limelight, and, striking an attitude, pose as the man of the moment who has saved the country!

It seemed to be in the nature of a protest against this sort of thing that a large number of private members of the House of Commons recently intervened in the dispute by inviting representatives of both sides to explain their differences to them in a Committee room of the House, this action—which, however, seemed to have been entirely unpremeditated—was hailed as "a vindication of Parliament," and was described by Lord Dunsy in a public speech as "a triumph for our constitutional system."

It will be remembered that the outcome of all the questioning which took place in the Committee room was the discovery of what seemed at the time to be a likely road to a settlement, though, as our London correspondent in the interesting letter we published yesterday showed, that ray of hope was unhappily extinguished by a change of tactics on the part of the miners' leaders. There was no "constitutional innovation" in the proceedings in the Committee room. Private members, as Mr. J. A. R. Marriott, M.P., mentions in an interesting communication to The Times, often do come together in one of the committee rooms to listen to the views of experts, military, economic and industrial, who speak on their own subjects with special authority. In one sense that was all that happened on the particular occasion under notice. "Nevertheless, the popular instinct which discerns in those events a special significance," Mr. Marriott said, "is not at fault." Yet no further action has been taken by any Parliamentary group to take the business out of the hands of Ministers or to insist that the Prime Minister shall leave industrial disputes to be settled in the manner prescribed by the Industrial Courts Act.

To-day is the birthday anniversary of H.M. the King, and the occasion will be celebrated in Hongkong in the customary manner—by a military parade in the morning and by a reception at Government House in the evening. His Majesty is 56 to-day. Throughout the far-flung dominions of the Crown his loyal subjects will fervently re-echo to-day the prayer of the National Anthem that His Majesty may be long spared to reign over us. GOD SAVE THE KING.

Mr. James Moore Hickson, at the close of his Mission of Healing in Hangchow, went on to Shaohsing where he conducted one healing service. This was well attended and a report says it caused quite a stir in the city.

A case of snatching pearl ear-rings worth $800, and robbery, at Jaggara point, in Yau-mat, have been reported to the police in the last 24 hours.

It is reported that the employees of the Hospital for the Insane, at Canton, being dissatisfied with the amount of wages they receive, have gone on strike.

Students, writes a correspondent in Szechuan, are once again making the life of the local officials and gentry generally miserable, by their persistent efforts to boycott Japanese goods, and prevent their entry into the market.

Such residents in Happy Valley as were awake had their attention attracted, early yesterday morning, by a fire at Wongneichong. A match caught fire and was destroyed in a few minutes, before the Fire Brigade could get to the scene. No other structures were involved and no one was injured.

The children of members of the Police Force are giving a concert to-morrow night, at the Central Police Station, in aid of the Police branch of the Ministering Children's League. Those who desire to encourage the guardians of law and order, to aid a good cause, and to spend a pleasant evening can get a ticket, for a trifle, on application at any police station.

Mr. Leo Allen Bergholz, American Consul-General at Canton, arrived in Shanghai, last week, with his mother on the P.M.S. Colombia en route to Canton. Mr. Bergholz has been on leave in America for six months. This is the last trip of the Colombia to the Orient, for, upon her return to America, she will be placed on the San Francisco-Baltimore service of the Pacific Mail S.S. Co.

The Chinese Government has been informed by Dr. Wellington Koo, the Chinese Minister to London, that he has been requested by the Representative of the Georgia Republic in London to say that Georgia wishes to open commercial and diplomatic relations with the Chinese Republic. The Georgian Republic intends opening commercial relations with Japan. A Georgian Mission visited Tokyo some time ago. Georgia, adds Dr. Koo, is now independent of Soviet Russia and has its own non-Soviet Government in the Caucasus.

Japan does not seem to be in high favour in Siberia. The following extract is from one of the latest issues of the Vladivostok Daily News:—"The Constituent Assembly having endeavoured with all its might to come to a peaceful understanding with Japan over the territories and operations within the boundaries of the Far Eastern Republic, declares that it has failed in its purpose. Having re-appointed itself, but under the title of National Assembly, it now thinks fit to prove to Japan that it cannot be trifled with, and under the directorate of the newly-appointed president Nikiforoff, the Council of Ministers has decided that foreigners shall not be admitted to participation in the forthcoming auction of timber concessions in the Republic's territories. Japan being the culprit, all foreigners must suffer, for to exclude Japan only would be practically declaring war on her which the F.E.R. would in no wise like to imply."

THE TEN SHILLING TAEI.

In his report on the trade of Tientsin for 1920 Mr. K. H. R. Wade, Commissioner of Customs, recalls the fact that at the beginning of last year the tael there stood at ten shillings. So much has happened since, that that wondrous state of affairs seems almost to have happened in historical times. The impression is even heightened on reading that "when the tael reached the unprecedented level of half a sovereign, sound business men of all nationalities did not see why it should not appreciate another 50 per cent." Just so, and hence all those years to-day. Of course, there was nothing unusual in all manner of people expecting it to go up to 16 shillings, for that is merely a common symptom of the optimism created by a boom. There were further symptoms, the appearance of mushroom firms, for instance, and so day Tientsin is badly "in the soup." The situation is all the worse, because so far as cotton goods are concerned, the Tientsin dealers are able to fulfil their immediate requirements at the Shanghai auctions, and leave the high priced cargo to mould in storage and interest charges. Then the Commissioner further points out that competition from Europe against these goods may soon be expected, owing to cheap labour and low exchange. Mr. Wade estimates the incubus thus created at about seven and a half million taels, which has to be wiped off before trade can flourish. There must be a drastic cutting of losses, and apparently the sooner the better.—N.Y. Daily News.

INTER-EMPIRE TRADE: OBSTACLES IN CANADA.

DERBY SCENES: CALCUTTA SWEEPSTAKES WINNER. SAGHALIEN FOR JAPAN: ALLEGED MOSCOW OFFER.

LATEST CABLES.
[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

THE DERBY.

DERBY SCENES AERIALLY REPORTED.

LONDON, June 1st.

There was a news agency representative on board R33. For the first time the Derby scenes were aerially reported. A single train visible for miles on the countryside was a mournful commentary on the coal strike. The airship was not allowed to come within three miles of Epsom for fear its shadow might frighten the horses. Her work of regulating traffic and reporting stoppages evoked an appreciative message from Epsom, which said, "Your information proved of great service."

A correspondent, who motored to the Derby from London, says that he did the journey in two hours, thanks to R33, which controlled movements throughout and assisted the army and policemen at the cross-roads, who indicated the road to be taken. He concludes that "the heat contained the largest and happiest crowd—n record. All came by the road, mostly motoring. R33 saw to it that they came with ease."

[Humorist, the winner of the Derby is owned by Mr. J. B. Joel, Lord Astor is the owner of Craig-an-Eran, and Mr. J. Watson the owner of Lemenora.]

CALCUTTA SWEEPSTAKES WINNER.

LONDON, June 2nd.

Captain Alban Jones is the winner of the first prize in the Calcutta Turf Club Derby Sweepstakes. The prize amounts to £35,000.

Captain Jones is Assistant Marine Superintendent of the Union-Castle Mail Steamship Co., Ltd., in the Port of London.

FURTHER DETAILS.

LONDON, June 1st.

The place betting was 6 to 4 against Lemenora; others in proportion. Granelly and Our Prince were left at the post and did not participate in the race, but came under the starter's orders.

Alan Breck took the lead, which he maintained until four furlongs from home, when Humorist, Craig-an-Eran and Lemenora joined issue. A great struggle ensued between the two, first named, Humorist winning a grand race. Alan Breck finished fourth.

GLORIOUS WEATHER.

Sunshine was in evidence at the Derby, which, it is computed, was witnessed by a record crowd, including their Majesties, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, Prince Henry and the Duke of Connaught. The Royal procession was vociferously cheered as it arrived on the course.

AUSTRALIANS V. CAMBRIDGE.

HUBERT ASHTON'S CENTURY.

LONDON, June 1st.

Cambridge scored 220. H. Ashton retired hurt, through being hit on the finger by a fast ball from McDonald, which dislocated the finger, after he had contributed 107 by brilliant, confident cricket. The innings contained 19 fours, and is the first century against the Australians. Ashton's further participation in the match is unlikely. McDonald took 25 wickets for 40.

The Australians scored 107 for 3. Cambridge's fielding was superb.

TROUBLES OF HOSPITALS.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF COMMITTEE.

LONDON, June 2nd.

The financial anxieties of hospitals, already experienced by several of the most important institutions, are likely to be somewhat diminished, if the recommendations of the committee of investigation, which was presided over by Lord Cave, are adopted. It is foreseen that the committee propose Parliament to grant a million sterling during the current year for distribution, as occasion demands, by a suggested central body designated the Hospitals Commission.

The other recommendations will be the reduction of income-tax in respect of employers' contributions to hospitals, and remission of death duties on legacies made to hospitals.

It is stated that the committee favour the retention of the voluntary principle, which the hospitals strongly desire, instead of public maintenance entailing an enormous outlay. It is mentioned that, while the income of hospitals has increased by 67 per cent. since the period before the war, the expenditure has increased 150 per cent. The idea has been formulated that expenditure can be reduced by co-operative buying. It is proposed that the Hospitals Commission should be a semi-Government body.

DUCAL ENGAGEMENT.

LONDON, June 2nd.

The engagement is announced of the Duke of Marlborough and Gladys, the daughter of Mr. E. P. Deacon, of Boston.

AUSTRIAN CABINET.

PROTEST AGAINST STYRIAN DECISION.

LONDON, June 2nd.

The Cabinet, which was temporarily carrying on, has resigned, owing to the decision of the Styrian Diet to hold a plebiscite on July 3rd on the question of union with Germany.

GERMAN CHANCELLOR'S ADVICE.

VIENNA, June 2nd.

Herr Wirth, the German Chancellor, has urgently requested the Austrian Government to do everything to prevent further plebiscites in Austria on the question of union with Germany.

INTER-EMPIRE TRADE.

VISIT OF MR. BENJAMIN MORGAN TO CANADA.

LONDON, June 2nd.

Interest attaches to the forthcoming visit to Canada of Mr. Benjamin Morgan, who is now chairman of the British Empire Producers' Organisation, to discuss with large producing interests a scheme for extending the markets of Great Britain in the Empire. It is feared that a number of industries in Canada have become entirely American in character, making it increasingly difficult for British enterprise to participate in them. It is understood that with a view of stimulating inter-empire trade representations are being made to obtain effective preferential arrangements between Canada and Australia.

TRIAL OF WAR CRIMINALS.

ROBERT NEUMANN'S CASE.

LEIPZIG, June 2nd.

Robert Neumann has been sentenced to six months' imprisonment, including the four months already spent in custody. The Public Prosecutor asked that the sentence be eighteen months.

THE SILESIAN IMBROGLIO. GERMAN GRIEVANCE AGAINST POLAND.

BERLIN, June 2nd.

In the Reichstag, Herr Wirth, referring to Silesia, declared that the Germans, under the oppression of the Korfanty bands, had undergone insupportable treatment. The Polish rising, he said, was not a spontaneous popular movement, but an artificial rebellion supported from outside.

Rebellion, said Herr Wirth, can never create rights, nor make Polish a land which has not belonged to Poland for 700 years, and has never displayed a trace of Polish feeling until artificially stimulated recently by Polish strangers.

Herr Wirth declared that, apart from the result of the plebiscite, the complexity of economic organisation in Upper Silesia was such that any partition would involve the ruin of the parts cut off.

EARLIER CABLES.

REPARATIONS PAYMENT.

GERMANY'S FIRST INSTALLMENT.

NEW YORK, June 1st.

The first instalment of Germany's reparation payment to the Allies through the United States, amounting to $18,733,000, was, to-day, placed in the Federal Reserve Bank. The German Government, through four New York banks, completed the deposit yesterday. Payments were not made in actual cash or gold, but in a transfer of banking credits.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY REICHSBANK.

BERLIN, June 1st.

In connection with the Allied ultimatum, the Reichsbank announces its intention to buy gold coin and gold bars. The Bank says it must pay 260 marks for a 20 mark piece and 37,000 marks for a kilogramme of fine gold.

BRITAIN WARNS BAVARIA.

LONDON, June 1st.

Reuter learns that the British Government has informed Bavaria that no disarmament concession is possible. Bavaria must toe the line the same as the rest of Germany, as fulfilment of the ultimatum is the only way of avoiding serious consequences both for Bavaria and Germany.

FRENCH CHAMBER'S VOTE OF CONFIDENCE.

PARIS, May 27th (delayed).

The Chamber, by 419 to 171, passed a vote of confidence in the Government in reference to the questions of the agreement of London, the ultimatum of May 13th, and of Upper Silesia—Havas.

MORE DIFFICULTIES IN SILESIA.

PARIS, June 1st.

A message from Oppeln states that, despite the Allied High Commission's notification that Allied troops would be quartered in a district separate from the Germans and Poles, the German general launched an attack in the direction of Grotzschütz and captured the villages of Kalinowitz, Kalinow, and Kosniotow. The Commission has ordered General Hlofer to stop fighting, otherwise the Allied troops will evacuate the German villages in the industrial region.

GERMAN CHANCELLOR'S FAIR WORDS.

BERLIN, June 2nd.

Reconciliation and reconciliation were outlined as the Government's policy by the Imperial Chancellor, Herr Wirth, in a speech in the Reichstag. The Chancellor said that the Government intended to fulfil its obligations, and gave as an instance the observance of the time-limits in the ultimatum.

Herr Wirth tactfully acknowledged Bavaria's decision to abandon her recalcitrant attitude in regard to disarmament, and pointed out that Germany was liable to pay 34 milliards of gold marks if the 1921 export trade equalled last year's. He fore-shadowed representations with the object of a reduction in the percentage levy on exports and referred to the prospects of the various new taxes. Herr Wirth criticised French policy, manifested by the application of the recent sanctions, as calculated to undermine the democratic spirit in Germany. He hoped that Great Britain and her Allies would give Germany a fair chance and not increase the existing difficulties.

REDUCTION OF WAGES.

U.S. RAILWAY BOARD ANNOUNCE- MENT.

CHICAGO, June 1st.

The Railway Board has announced that it is reducing all men's wages 19 per cent. commencing July 1st. It is estimated that this will reduce the wage-bill by $400,000,000.

STEP BY GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

MONTREAL, June 1st.

The Grand Trunk Railway shops are re-opening on a four-day schedule. Wages will be reduced at the end of the existing contracts.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY UNDER STATE CONTROL.

OTTAWA, June 1st.

All the necessary steps have been taken for the transfer to the Government of the control and management of the Grand Trunk Railway.

THE OKLAHOMA RIOTS.

NEGRO QUARTER ABLAZE.

TULSA, June 1st.

Dawn found seventy motor-cars filled with armed whites circling the negro quarter, with half a dozen aeroplanes hovering overhead. A party of white riflemen are reported to be shooting at all negroes, also firing into houses of the negroes, who are replying dispiritedly. The reported death-roll now reaches fifteen.

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED.

LATER.

The Governor has declared martial-law. The disturbances are subsiding, but many blocks in the negro quarter are aflame. The death-roll is estimated at 75.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

AMERICAN PROFESSIONALS TO COMPETE.

LONDON, June 1st.

Eleven American professional golfers have arrived to compete in the open championship.

The five American ladies participating in the Ladies' Golf Championship, at Turnberry, to-day, were defeated, thus completing the elimination of all the eleven competitors.

HISTORY IN GERMAN SCHOOLS.

ABOLISHING THE "MACHINE- MADE PRODUCT."

Nothing has interested the vast intellectual body of the German public more of late than the promised results of a whole year's leave granted to several highly specialised teachers for the purpose of writing a new history book for use in schools, and adapted to the special needs of the present republic.

The outcome of this attempt, which has just been sent in for approval, caused at first some disappointment. More was expected in certain sanguine quarters than a very slim volume entitled "Synopsis: Historical Tables for the Use of Higher Classes in Schools." This consists of nothing more than the headings, running in parallel columns, of the chief achievements throughout the centuries of the countries of Europe in the various branches of political and domestic economy, religion, art, literature, and music; their inner organisation and foreign policy with its bearing upon international affairs, from 1500 onwards with particular reference to the position of Germany throughout the period covered. Events leading up to the beginning of the sixteenth century are given attention in so far as they form the decided basis of any subsequent movement; the last twenty years of life in Europe up to 1920 are typified by a few sentences bearing upon the sociological point of view. This latter comprises, according to tenets laid down here and regarded as final, the subjects of economics, the State, law, language, morals, and art. Before these last few years facts have been grouped synthetically as possible, during periods of half-centuries up to 1700, thirds of centuries from 1700 to 1800, and quarters throughout the nineteenth century.

These bald statements of epoch-making events are not intended to be learned off by heart. The tables are to lie on the desks in front of the children, and teachers are at liberty to lay special stress upon subjects which they themselves feel peculiarly qualified to expound. Nobody is expected to master in detail the stupendous mass of knowledge required, but it is believed and hoped that an intelligent interest will be awakened in youthful minds for subjects infinitely more inspiring than the names of kings and the dates of battles.

The failure of these specially trained for the task to produce a new school history at command is regarded as a well-earned sign by all who are eager to educate individuals capable of independent thought and action and to abolish the machine-made product of German education in the past—Observer.

"NOT FORGOTTEN."

THE WOUNDED STILL IN LONDON HOSPITAL.

Lieut.-General Sir William Furse, Director of London Region of the Ministry of Pensions, presided at a meeting of the "Not Forgotten" Association (founded by Miss Martha Cunningham, who is the hon. secretary), held at 56, Piccadilly, to be present.

Sir William Furse said there was considerable difficulty in getting Londoners interested in men still suffering from wounds received in war service, and he was delighted when he heard that Miss Martha Cunningham had founded this little association, with its apt title. About 3,000 wounded soldiers, sailors, and airmen had received and benefited by the kindly hospitality of people who asked the men to trips on the river, and concert parties. But the number of people who had entertained them was only 10 individuals all told, which was not creditable to London, or indeed to England. In London there were three big hospitals directly administered by the Ministry of Pensions. Besides these there were many hundreds of hospitals and institutions taking ex-service men throughout the region. There were 2,000 men in hospital in London, 8,230 in the region. In addition to these, there were as out-patients in London about 17,000 and in the region 47,000. These men were sensitive about the fact that those for whom they had suffered permanent injury had forgotten them. The advent of the association had been welcomed in every hospital, and the matrons report that the men are deeply grateful and appreciative to those who remember them in practical form. Their present host, Mr. Drabble, for the past nine months had entertained 40 men once a month at tea, and others had entertained smaller numbers. He urged people who could spare the time to go down to the hospitals to make friends with the men, and that former company commanders who had been at the front would be most welcome. The Prince of Wales had announced his intention of visiting some of the hospitals and had expressed his interest in the association. Several offers to entertain parties of men during May and June were then read out, also a promise to give a ball in aid of the association during the season. Mr. Phillips, on behalf of the Red Cross Society, who had helped with the transport of the men, said that offers of private cars were badly needed for special cases and also for a hospital at Palace Green, where there were about 60 commissioned officers.

APPARATUS FOR ARMLESS MEN.

"AN INVENTION OF GENIUS."

A wonderful apparatus for armless men, invented during the war period by a working gasfitter of Edinburgh, Mr. Thomson, was exhibited recently at the Society of Arts, Adelphi.

Sir James Canlie, founder of the College of Ambulance, who spoke about the Thomson machine, said that the inventor was also responsible for a most valuable apparatus for the blind. Little or no notice was taken of it at the time, but now St. Dunstan's had it, and probably every institution for the blind in the country. It was the same with Thomson's machine for armless men. Very little attention appeared to be paid to it at first, but it was now regarded as an invention of genius. Nothing of the kind had ever been seen before. Sir James mentioned the case of a lad whose great misfortune it was to have both arms torn off by machinery in a factory. Some months later he was sent off to Edinburgh, where Mr. Thomson very kindly put him up in his humble abode, and set to work to teach the boy. That was a Sunday morning, and by one o'clock on Monday, the boy was able to eat his dinner and smoke a cigarette by the Thomson instrument. The instrument consists of two long, tapering steel digits, which are manipulated by the feet from a trestle under a table. The extraordinary thing about the particular case sent to Mr. Thomson was, added the lecturer, that the poor lad was not only armless, but had never learned to write and was blind in one eye. Incredible as it seemed, within a short time Mr. Thomson taught the lad to write with either pen or pencil, and to-day he could copy a letter quite well. Within a few months more he would be able to read and typewrite quite well. Mr. Thomson hoped to improve upon the present machine to enable a person to use a hammer or saws and do certain work. The experiments performed in illustration of these facts were received with loud applause.

The Hon. Sir Arthur Stanley, who presided, spoke in high terms of the invention.

WHAT IS A LAKH?

It is not every body who knows that a lakh of rupees is 100,000 of this Eastern financial item. While at Oxford Lord Curzon, then the Hon. George Nathaniel Curzon, achieved the reputation of being a most superior person. When he was acting in the capacity of Under-Secretary for India the writings of the House went to call him "Mr. Curzon"—so sharp, short and superior were his answers to questions. Generally he was as cool as a cucumber, but one day he was making a long and elaborate speech against a measure urged by the Opposition, regarding that dependency, it is certain to result in a loss to the Government of many lakhs of rupees. Very emphatic and convincing was his tone, convincing his hearers with rhetorical flourish, not, however, without guineas, but lakhs of rupees. "Exactly, but how much is a lakh of rupees?" shouted a brainy heckler on the Opposition benches. The House rocked with laughter when Mr. Curzon, bewildered, opened his mouth, stammered, grew red and finally faltered—"I really don't know." This beautiful speech was evolved in vain, for he failed in his appeal.

SCOTTISH LETTER.

AT THE COAL WAR FRONT.

SOUP KITCHENS FOR COLLIERIES.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

EDINBURGH, April 20th.
The other day I received a letter from a young officer of the Seaforth, at the top of which were the words: "At the front, Somewhere in Scotland." This heading was a little jest, but it was barbed with truth. At the present moment some of the principal coalfields of Scotland are in military occupation, the last resource of law and order. The Government provoked disorder by taking these military precautions is not only false but absurd. The troops were not despatched to any colliery until the wilder type of miners had broken out of bounds and started upon the suicidal policy of ruining the mines by flooding. The moment the soldiers appeared on the scene the rioting and looting stopped. The Communists and Sinn Feiners, of course, were not at all pleased at this turn of affairs. With bayonets at the piths, they discovered that "peaceful picketing," as it is politely called, could no longer be indulged in, nor hostile mobs make inroads on the engine-houses and overbear the volunteers and loyal workmen at the pumps. The left wing men, therefore, had to change their tactics. They could not use force; but they uttered threats both loud and deep, against the "safety men." The fact that the same threat was used in every mining locality in Scotland—to loot and then burn down the houses of the men working at the pumps—suggests that this common policy of terrorism emanates from a single source, the "Red" Bolsheviks or the "Green" Sinn Feiners.

A remarkable fact is that many, if not the majority, of the strikers are already feeling the pinch of poverty. From the start of the war until now they have been in the receipt of high wages, but they spent their money as quickly as they earned it—a sum of £2 per week was thought a moderate amount of pocket-money weekly. A few of the miners are still able to spend in the old lavish fashion, and a few are happy in something laid past for a rainy day; but, after the lapse of only three weeks' idleness, the great mass of the colliers already see want staring them in the face. This may seem an exaggeration; it is not so. It comes from the mouths of the Trade Union officials. Take a few illustrations. The Lanarkshire Miners' Union have been forced to start a scheme of communal feeding, which works out at 2s. per day, to take the place of strike allowance. "We are going to show," said one of the Trade Union officials, "that the miners of Lanarkshire can put up a good fight on soup and bread." The Education Authority have had before them communications from several miners' unions demanding that the clauses of the Education Act dealing with feeding of necessitous school children shall be put in force at once. The communication from the Cowie Miners' Union stated that unless the children were fed by the Education Authority a strike of the children would be called. Another body of miners said: "We cannot fight you through our children's stomachs." The rejoinder might have been made: "You did not care much for the stomachs of the children of other folk who are idle because their factories and workshops have no coal."

The situation here reflected is certainly without precedent. We have an industry which threatened to take the whole community by the throat and hold it to ransom, and yet, after a few days without wages, is itself reduced to the level of soup-kitchen relief.

THE ENORMOUS GROWTH OF SCOTTISH FREEMASONRY within the past few years is reflected in a series of functions which are being carried out this month in Spain and the Mediterranean in connection with Masonic bodies there which derive their Charters from the Scottish Constitution. A deputation from the Supreme Royal Arch Chapter of Scotland is at present paying a visit to several Chapters, with Gibraltar its headquarters. The Chapter at Tangier is being consecrated at Tangier and a visitation and inspection are being made of the Scottish Chapter at Ferrol, the deputation returning from Corunna towards the end of the month. The deputation is headed by the Right Hon. the Earl of Cassilis, First Grand Principal. An opportunity is also being taken to constitute a Provincial Grand Chapter of the Royal Order of Scotland at Gibraltar. This is the first time that either of these Masonic bodies has gone out of Scotland for the purpose of inspection and visitation. The arrangements for their reception are in the hands of General MacLachlan, formerly of the Cameron Highlanders, a well-known Scottish Freemason, who is at present stationed at Gibraltar.

PERSONALIA.
Sir Alfred Tristram Lawrence, the new Lord Chief Justice of England, was a habitué of Nairn Golf Links 30 years ago. I recall him there in association with Sir Robert Finlay (now Lord Finlay), and believe it was friendship with his colleague—they were both then leaders at the Bar—that drew him to the Northern Links.

A Watsonian Club has been formed in Glasgow, the old boys of the Big School turning out in large numbers. Its first President is Mr. Jack Paterson, a notable golfer and an all-round sport. I don't know how many trophies he has won on the links, but he has done the St. Andrew's Championship Course in 73, and the seventh hole at Musselburgh in one. As a long-distance runner, Mr. Paterson has a splendid record. He held the Scottish cross-country championship for three seasons; was the Scottish half-mile record holder 1900-1905; won the Irish and Scottish Championships at half, one, and four miles, and was also the ten-mile Scottish champion.

The duties of the Lord High Commissioner to this year's General Assembly of the Church of Scotland fall to the Duke of Sutherland, who, with his

OUR WAR HEROES.

MORE THAN 800,000 IDENTIFIED GRAVES.

Of the graves in which the British Empire's heroes of the war lie on the various battlefields no fewer than 617,000 have been definitely identified, located, and registered, out of death casualties amounting to a million. This statement was made by Sir Fabian Ware at the last monthly meeting of the Imperial War Graves Commission. He added that it was anticipated that substantial additions would be eventually made to this number, as registration in the United Kingdom and some other areas was still far from complete.

To give some idea of the work of the office in London, Sir Fabian mentioned that 42,000 new cards had been made during the financial year, correcting previous information and embodying fresh information, and 70,000 new registrations had been notified to the next-of-kin. The letters sent out in answer to inquiries numbered 134,000.

FRANCE AND BELGIUM.
As to the work of construction, he said that there would be roughly 1,200 cemeteries in France and Belgium large enough to require definite architectural treatment, as well as a very large number of other cemeteries, communal cemeteries, and church-yards, where British are buried in groups of 40 or 50, so that the total number of cemeteries will be something like 3,500.

Of the 1,200 large cemeteries, 141 were now under contract or tender, three were completed, 17 were actually under construction, and three more were practically completed. The designs for another 30 cemeteries were well forward, making 170 cemeteries in all representing 150,000 graves out of the 500,000 in these countries.

In addition, another 150 small cemeteries were being constructed by the Commission's own work department. The contracts had already been placed for the large crosses to be erected in all of them, and 20 of these crosses had already been put up.

During the past year 150,000 headstones for France had been erected, and the construction in the United Kingdom, the contracts having been distributed all over the country to 71 different firms, while 10,000 had been despatched to France and Belgium, and were erected, or in course of erection. With regard to the horticultural work, 500 cemeteries had been planted with trees, bulbs, flowers, and grass, and another 1,000 had been tidied.

THE UNKNOWN MISSING.
In Italy nine cemeteries had been completed, and four of the remainder were under contract, while 2,400 headstones were ten cemeteries, with 9,300 graves, all designed and out to tender, while in Gallipoli there were 35 cemeteries, containing about 15,000 graves. The designs were prepared and were out to tender for all these. In this area there were also 20,000 missing, with no known graves, and the method of commemorating these was under consideration.

In Egypt there were nine cemeteries, with 7,000 graves, all designed and out to tender; in Palestine there were eight cemeteries, with 9,000 graves, four being out to tender; while with regard to Mesopotamia, there were 37,000 casualties; there were 27,000 casualties; 11,000 graves had been registered, and five cemeteries had been designed.

In Holland there were four main cemeteries, the necessary land had been obtained in these, and the designs had been approved, and were being carried out. In Sweden there were 80 graves in scattered localities, contracts having been placed for the erection of headstones. In the Aegean there were 1,300 graves scattered throughout the islands, and a scheme for the concentration of these was under consideration. In East Africa there had been 4,000 burials, exclusive of native carriers. One cemetery had been designed, and was under construction.

In the United Kingdom there were 60,000 graves contained in between 9,000 and 10,000 different cemeteries, there being one to four graves in each cemetery in most cases. Twelve of these cemeteries, containing 2,400 graves, were either completed or under construction. Headstones had also been erected in isolated cemeteries.

charming wife, the Queen Mistress of the Robes, will receive the homage of the guests at Holyrood Palace. The Duke, at the age of 23, is the largest private landowner in Europe, his Sutherland estate alone covering over a million acres. During the war, he served in several capacities, including the command of gunboat flotillas in Egypt and the Adriatic. The Duke's properties include Ben Wyvis, Inverness, according to tradition, his claim to the mountain passes if ever the snow disappears from its summit. The story runs that several generations ago this nearly happened, and faithful retainers climbed to the summit and spread out rugs to keep the sun from the last patches of snow.

OBITUARY.
Richard Alexander Oswald, of Auchencraive, Ayrshire, a prominent Scottish sportsman, 80. In conjunction with Lord Rosebery, he was largely instrumental in securing the restoration of the Auld Brig o' Ayr. A member of the Jockey Club, his most notable success on the turf was the win of Scintillant in the Cesarewitch about a quarter of a century ago. For some time he was Master of the Eglington Foxhounds.

William Strang, R.A., 62. He began life as clerk in the office of shipbuilders on the Clyde, but while his duty was to check and copy invoices his pleasure was to sketch Dumbarton Castle out of the office window. It was said of him that when he should have been concerning himself about 2-inch lead pipes he was drawing aqueducts. Although it was as an etcher that he gained fame, he was also distinguished as a portrait painter.
